

THE ECONOMY in using gas for cooking, for water heating, in fact for everything where heat is required in the house and laundry, is so evident that those who have once been initiated to Gas will not do without it.

Its great feature of economy lies in the fact that no more than enough is ever consumed; every unit of heat is employed; there is no waste of fuel in starting the fire nor in letting it "die out;" there is none in having the radiation spread over the whole surface of the stove when it is wanted in only one spot.

We want to demonstrate these facts to you.

MAINLAND CANE SUGAR DROPPED MANY MILLIONS

Washington Report Shows Decrease of $8,985,366 In 1914 From Value In 1909

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the 1914 census of manufactures with reference to the main-land cane-sugar industry has been issued by Director Sam. L. Rogers of the bureau of census, department of commerce. It consists of a statement of the quantity of sugar cane used by the factories and the value of the products manufactured, prepared under the direction of Mr. William M. Steuart, chief statistician for manufactures.

The report covers the operation of all cane-sugar mills except the very small plants treating cane grown on the farm for the use of the owner. There are scattered throughout the southern states a large number of these small mills, statistics for which are collected and published at each census of agriculture. The refining of cane sugar, however, is treated as a separate industry and is covered by a separate report, as are also the manufacture of beet sugar and the production of sorghum and other sirups.

Summary of the Statistics.
Reports were received from 181 factories engaged in the manufacture of cane sugar, the majority of which furnished data for the season of 1913-14. The products for the year were valued at $21,635,372. At the census of 1909 reports were received from 214 establishments, with products valued at $30,620,738. The value of the annual production has therefore decreased $8,985,366, or 29.3 per cent.

The 181 factories reporting for 1914 used 3,754,820 tons (of 2000 pounds) of sugar cane, from which were produced 254,801 tons (of 2000 pounds) of sugar, valued at $18,947,683. In 1909 the 214 factories then in operation treated 4,520,419 tons of sugar cane, producing 326,858 tons of sugar, which were valued at $26,095,673. The decrease, therefore, was 62,057 tons, or 19 per cent, in quantity of product and $7,147,990, or 27.4 per cent in value. In 1914 there were also produced 23,955,893 gallons of molasses and sirup, valued at $2,631,212, and subsidiary products or by-products valued at $56,477. In 1909 the production of molasses and sirup was 25,957,441 gallons, valued at $3,211,191.

Of the 181 factories reported in 1914, 168 were located in Louisiana, 5 in Florida, 4 in Texas, 2 in Mississippi, and 1 each in Arizona and South Carolina.

The comparative statistics for 1914 and 1909 are summarized in the following statement:

Quantity and cost of material used and value of products in the cane-sugar industry: 1914 and 1909.

+ KEEP LINCOLN'S PROMISE TO MERRIMAC VETERAN +

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Lincoln's promise made more than half a century ago to John Driscoll of Hampton, Va., who is said to be the oldest survivor of the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac in the Civil War, is about to be carried out by the navy department.

After the naval engagement President Lincoln summoned the crew of the Monitor, of which Driscoll was a member, to Washington. He thanked them for their valor and said if any of them ever wanted a favor it would be necessary only to ask it.

Not until recently did Driscoll decide to ask the favor. He requested to be taken aboard a battleship going through the Panama canal which, he said, he longed to see before he died. Arrangements for the trip have just been completed and the next warship that passes through the great waterway will carry the aged veteran as a passenger.

ENGLAND SAID TO BE SEEKING SUGARS AGAIN

Rumored in Market For 50,000 Tons, Delivery During April, May, June at 5.50

Though refiners are expected to days in advance, they are eagerly in the market for more sugar because of reported increasing purchases, totaling 50,000 tons by England, according to the Sugar Market Review of March 19, put out by Nevins & Callaghan, 39 Wall street, which follows:

"The past week has witnessed a further rise in values, and following small sales early in the week to operators of Cubas for May shipment at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f., holders immediately raised their asking prices to 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. for Cubas for prompt and March shipments and to 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. for April and May shipments.

"A continued good inquiry for refined for export purposes and renewed buying of granulated by the domestic trade caused refiners to again enter the market as buyers of raws and sales of about 20,000 bags Cubas for March shipment at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. were immediately followed by a sale of a small cargo of Cubas at 4.11-35c basis 96 degrees c. & f. and of about 25,000 bags Cubas for April and May shipments at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f.

"This buying movement also included about 3,000 to 4,000 bags Porto Rico for March and April shipments at 5.2-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f., as against 5.1-16c, the last previous price paid for Porto Rico in this position. These purchases cleared the market at the moment of all offerings and further parcels of Cubas and Porto Rico that appeared afterwards were at higher levels. The active buying of refiners encouraged speculators to again take an interest in the market and their purchases of about 30,000 to 40,000 bags Cubas for prompt and March shipment at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. recorded an advance of 1c in the spot quotation for Cubas over the closing prices of last week, and cleared the market of all offerings of Cubas at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f.

"Buyers then turned their attention to Porto Rico and sales of 20,000 bags Porto Rico for April shipment to an outport refiner at 5.3-16c and of two small parcels, aggregating about 15,000 bags for prompt and March shipment at 5.2-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. to a local refiner cleaned up the offerings of these sugars. Holders then became firmer, even though refiners were showing no great anxiety to operate, and the week closes with offerings of Cubas extremely moderate at 4.5-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. for March and April shipment and at 4.9-16c basis 96 degrees c. & f. for May shipment. Sellers feel confident of eventually obtaining these asking prices, as the demand continues in a moderate way for granulated for domestic uses even at the advanced prices, and the inquiry appears to be increasing for refined for export.

"The weekly cable on Tuesday from Cuba reported receipts of 158,789 tons and 183 centrals grinding, as compared to 125,000 tons receipts and 174 centrals at the corresponding date last year. Today 183 centrals are in operation and light rains are reported in the western provinces.

"Despite the fact that the refined trade has bought liberally during the past few weeks and are covered on contracts for at least 60 days to come, the strength of raws caused renewed buying on their part, and although refiners did not accept all of the business tendered them, still the volume of orders placed was sufficient to cause an advance in the list price of granulated. During the week all refiners advanced to 6.5-16c, less 2 per cent, and at the close all refiners have advanced 15 points more to the basis of 6.65, less 2 per cent. The export inquiry for refined seems to be increasing and there are rumored purchases by England of about 50,000 tons for export during April, May and June at 5.50c f. c. b. in bond, positive confirmation of which is lacking.

"The trading in options during the week reached an aggregate of 50,550 tons. Closing quotations today are: March 4.52@4.54c, April 4.53@4.55c, May 4.60@4.61c, July 4.70@4.71c, August 4.75@4.76 and September 4.79@4.80c."

BRITAIN STOPS SPECULATION IN METALS FOR WAR MATERIAL

LONDON, England.—The government has issued regulations prohibiting speculative transactions in the various metals required in the production of war material. The new regulations will have an important effect on dealings in the metal exchanges of Great Britain, especially in London and Glasgow, where there is a large speculative business.

The object of the new order is to prevent increase in price, which is said to have been a feature of the dealings in these markets.

DEAF NINETEEN YEARS; HEARS OVER TELEPHONE

WINSTED, Conn.—While in a jocular mood Felix Bonvouloir, employed at the plant of the Royal Typewriter Company in Hartford, heard a human voice for the first time, after being deaf 19 years. As a joke he went to a telephone to pretend to listen to the conversation of a friend and to his surprise heard the friend speak over the wire.

"I was terribly frightened," Bonvouloir said later, "and for a moment did not know what to do. Then I realized that my greatest hope—to hear—had come to pass."
